Getting Back To Normal

DURING the summer months, "Canadian Radio" has been published every four weeks, the intention being to resume publication on a fortnightly basis as soon as interest in radio picked up sufficiently to warrant the more frequent issues. It is natural, of course, to expect less attention to be given to indoor entertainment, including radio, in the Summer and early Fall, but there are signs that radio is coming into its own once more. Despite hard times, it appears quite probable that this winter will see more than usual activity in the radio field of Canada.

To some extent, the business of getting back to normal in the matter of radio has been slowed up by the uncertainty as to what will happen in the way of radio control by the Government. Canadian Radio has been exceedingly careful in keeping clear of any controversy with regard to the merits or demerits of any change in the present system. Everyone interested in radio, however, must concede that if private enterprise is to be given any scope at all, a definite announcement as to the plan to be followed in radio broadcasting throughout the Dominion is essential. No organization is likely to spend money on radio entertainment, whether in building up equipment or providing programmes, unless the conditions incident to such expenditures are clearly understood. Presumably if any change is to be made it will be a gradual one but at the time of writing no definite announcement of any kind has been made—which is not so good, either for the radio industry or the radio listeners. It takes a lot of money to put worth-while programmes on the air and if radio in Canada is to be maintained on a high standard, someone has got to foot the bill. Under present conditions, an extra license fee would be rather poorly received and it is doubtful if it would go very far towards providing the type of programmes needed. Perhaps by the time these notes appear in print the radio public will know what is really "in the air" in the matter of radio control.

It is unfortunate that the changing over from summer to winter time, occurs just half-way through the period covered by this issue of Canadian Radio. An explanatory note is being made with the programmes directly affected and in others there may be minor adjustments, details of which are not available at this time. So far as is possible, however, the necessary corrections have been made.

Before running over our allotted page, it might be well to mention that the front cover picture is a scene on the Kingsmere River, in Prince Albert National Park. This summer view is the one remaining from a collection loaned through the courtesy of the Manitoba Chamber of Mines and it was deemed wise to use it before any further change in the weather made such a beautiful summer setting inappropriate.

As a last note, may we again draw the attention to the fact that readers are invited to submit questions relating to radio difficulties or in connection with radio programmes, which will be answered in succeeding issues of Canadian Radio without charge.

CHANGE OF TIME

On September 26, 1932, daylight saving time will be discontinued. This affects the U.S. chain programmes, certain U.S. individual station programmes and the market reports of Canadian stations. In the case of some station programmes also, regular features will be changed in order to tie in with market reports. In this issue, the conversion to Central Standard Time has been made as heretofore but on and after September 26, where shown by a foot-note, one hour must be added.

Station V.E.4K.X.

The thrills that come from listening to code messages being flashed to all parts of the world are shared by more people in the West than is generally realized. It is estimated that in Winnipeg alone there are approximately thirty such enthusiasts, fully qualified and actively operating private radio stations as a spare time hobby. That this is something more than a passing fancy is shown by the time and care given to the construction and assembly of these private sets; by the enthusiasm of this growing band of amateur operators; and lastly, by the excellent results obtained.

The picture above is that of short wave station V.E.4K.X., owned and operated by Harry L. Eddy at 689 Jubilee Avenue, Winnipeg. A mere glance at the picture is sufficient to indicate the completeness of the equipment used in this particular instance. However, for the benefit of those who desire exact details, the following may be of interest: The transmitter is run at very low power, about 20 watts input and ordinary receiving tubes of the type 245 are used. Frequency control is accomplished by a calibrated monitor. The receiver used is a National SW 3 DC.

Enquiry shows that this station has been on the air for about three months, during which time foreign countries as well as stations on both coasts of North America, have been regularly heard. The list of foreign countries, apart from Great Britain, include Denmark, Brazil, France, Germany, New Zealand and Australia. When it is remembered that Station V.E.4K.X. is located in the basement of a dwelling house, and occupies the modest area of a space 6½ by 6 feet, one can readily visualize the possibilities for expansion and further development in the short wave field.

Like most operators of private stations, the proud owner of V.E.4K.X. is a member of the Manitoba Wireless Experimental Association. And, lest there should be an unprecedented rush to join the ranks of the Association, it should be added that operators are required to pass a very thorough examination before they are granted a license to operate a private set such as the one depicted. Licenses are

WHAT'S NEW IN RADIO

Bi-Acoustic Radio

Of general interest should be the announcement of a new standard in radio reception with the introduction of Bi-Acoustic Radio, a development of the Victor Talking Machine Co. Limited.

Starting even with the tubes the Victor Bi-Acoustic set is an entirely new radio, offering no less than eight major advances. In these is included "B" amplification, which through creating a tremendous surplus of power is considered one of the greatest developments that radio has seen in years. A really efficient automatic volume control known as dual automatic is another practical feature which has taken an important part in raising performance to the new standard.

The new Bi-Acoustic principle has made possible a great increase in tone range from bass to treble. This increase by actual laboratory tests is over two full octaves greater than the accepted Superheterodyne range.

As in the speed of an automobile, radio owners have found that there is a certain volume level at which their sets operate best. It is a medium level, above which there is distortion, below which there is loss of fidelity. The latter is the more important, and while Bi-Acoustic radio can be stepped up to an unbelievable volume, it can be turned down to a whisper without losing the proportion of a single note or instrument.

The radio public will greatly benefit by the extensive advance made possible by the Bi-Acoustic principle.

granted only to those who show, by practical and theoretical examination, that they have a working knowledge of the Continental code, as well as of radio reception and transmission in general.

Operators of these stations throughout Canada are probably more interested in code work than in listening in to ordinary radio programmes. Such matters as the relaying of distress messages give them more thrills than listening to the latest jazz interpretation from Europe or the South Sea Islands. Naturally, any interference or encroachment upon ordinary commercial messages is not allowed.

A point that deserves to be stressed in connection with these private stations is that seldom, indeed, are they the cause of radio interference in the more common form of broadcasting. The reason is an excellent one. Operators of these stations are required to keep strictly within their frequency allotment, namely, on either the 80, 40 or 20 meter band. This is covered by stringent regulation and inspection. If it is discovered that a station is transgressing in this respect, the license is not merely suspended but is cancelled for all time. Under these circumstances, operators very naturally take every precaution to see that they stay with their band, rather than mingle with the crowd.

CKX NOTES

The daily morning music programme which has been suspended for the past two months will shortly be resumed. The fact that we received a good many "kicks" about the suspension of this feature indicates that it has proved a popular broadcast.

We expect to start again with the fortnightly old time Scotch concerts sponsored by Brown's Drug Store and Knowlton's Boot Shop. These seemed to give a great deal of pleasure to many of our listeners last year.

Correspondence has already come to hand requesting some DX programmes. We will try to arrange some a little later in the season.

POPULARITY OF RADIO

The radio continues to advance in popular favour in Canada. At the end of March, 1932, there were 598,358 licensed radio receiving sets in the Dominion, an increase of 75,258 over the number recorded on March 31, 1930, the end of the Canadian Government fiscal year.

The Province of Ontario has the largest number of radio sets, with 285,048. Quebec is next with 127,804, followed by British Columbia with 55,534; Manitoba with 35,262; Saskatchewan with 31,487; Alberta with 27,481; Nova Scotia with 21,109; New Brunswick with 13,256 and Prince Edward Island with 1,189. The Northwest Territories are credited with 188 sets.

Among the cities Toronto, with a population of 631,207, has 86,454 sets, while Montreal with a population of 818,577 has 76,160 sets.

The Government of Canada requires each owner of a radio receiving set to pay a yearly license fee of $2 for which certain services towards improving the reception of programmes is given.

PURSuing THE EDITOR

Nine years ago, Bill Schudt, Jr., then radio editor of the now-extinct "Evening Mail," wrote a lengthy article for his page giving directions for the construction of a radio set. The other day, Bill, who announces Columbia dance bands, received a letter from a listener. "Have been trying to locate you since 1923," penned its author, "as I'd like to know what capacity condenser was to be used for that circuit." Almost incredible, but Bill has the letter.

Police Radio System

The Montreal City Council has recently awarded a contract to the Northern Electric Company Limited for installation of a comprehensive Police Radio System. The equipment, which will be supplied, will be in every respect similar to that supplied by the Western Electric Company to the New York Police Department, but will also include some further improvements recently brought out, and will be manufactured in Canada. Under the scheme which Director Fernand Dufresne has laid down, all highways leading into and out of Montreal will be especially covered by the short wave broadcasts emanating from the 400 watt transmitting station in police headquarters.

A CHECK ON LAW BREAKERS

This is a picture of one of the transmitting stations of the New York Police Department. The equipment supplied by the Northern Electric Company to the Montreal Police Department will be the same, but built in Montreal.

The broadcasting equipment, which is entirely A.C. operated and crystal controlled, will operate on 175 metres (or sump'in'). The two fourteen hundred pound, one hundred foot steel antenna towers, will be erected by the Dominion Bridge Company's Engineers on the roof of Police Headquarters, while the transmitting equipment will be located on the third floor of the building in a special studio designed to suit the peculiar nature of the purpose it will have to serve.

Thirty cars specially designed for Police Patrol duty throughout the city will be equipped with receiving sets. Day and night these patrol cars will cruise the streets of the metropolis manned by policemen armed with powerful guns, tear-bombs, and gasmasks ready for any emergency. The cars will always be in direct contact with headquarters, and in case of a sudden broadcast of a crime, the car nearest to the scene will proceed there at once.

A number of the outlying districts of Montreal, including Notre Dame de Grace, Cartierville, Sault Aux Recollet, Ahuntsic, Victoria Bridge and Harbour Front, will also be in direct contact with headquarters, precinct reception posts being established in those districts.

Acquisition by radio by Montreal's Police Department in its battle against lawlessness, will enable the police to throw a dragnet over the entire city immediately in the wake of crime and even to anticipate it, should they receive advice of the approach of desperate characters.

This should make Montreal, which is situated on an island, a very unhealthy location for the operations of acquisitive gentlemen with "gats" or other forms of "Knock-em-Outs," etc.

IN RADIO CAST FOR "PHANTOM"

Eunice Howard, Who Plays an Important Part in the Radio Cast for
"The Phantom of Crestwood"

"The Phantom of Crestwood" revealed many new developments in radio mystery drama technique when inaugurated over a nationwide NBC-WEAF network Friday, August 26.

The mystery story, which is being dramatized over the air in six weekly instalments previous to its release as a motion picture by RKO Radio Pictures and which will form the basis of a $6,000 cash prize contest for listeners, has presented many scenes calling for a new and different broadcast treatment.

RADIO AND RESEARCH

Long before radio broadcasting was ever dreamed of, General Electric scientists were experimenting in the development of a tube for the detection and amplification of sound waves and the first tubes known to the public were General Electric developments. Years of research followed and finally tubes were evolved with a tungsten filament coated with thorium and it was this thorium coating which gave maximum life and efficiency to the filament and tubes could be operated at a lower wattage.

Then followed the recent screen-grid four element tube; the loud speaker tubes; tubes permitting operation of receivers direct from alternating house current; tubes for high amplification and a detector tube. And now the "Radiotron" smoothing out the air as modern road construction has smoothed out highways. Sets equipped with Radiotron will give tone quality, selectivity, and sensitivity to a degree hitherto unapproached.

Since 1914 the General Electric Company has spent over $20,000,000 for radio research alone. Every phase of radio has been enriched by the contribution of scientists and engineers of this company and this is why the new General Electric radio models encompass all the features that are essential in radio.

No radio is more perfect than its tubes and G. E. Radiotrons are noted for their ability to reproduce powerfully and clearly—with pure, natural tone. They are the product of years of research; in fact, G. E. Radiotrons are "good medicine" for any radio, particularly to bring an old one up to date.

The new General Electric battery models are identical with the electric models, having the same controls, loud speaker and G. E. Radiotrons. The chassis mounting is also the same and the same beauty of cabinet design has been maintained in both floor and table models.

CHWC NOTES

Orchestral music will play a large part in the presenting of programmes this fall and winter over CHWC. Every orchestra in Regina is now signed with the CHWC Artists Bureau. The well known Silvertone Seven directed by Landon Muirhead returned to Regina on the 6th of September and have commenced their regular studio broadcasts. This organization is well known to Western listeners and includes the finest musicians of the province. The Round-the-Town Programme this winter will be especially interesting as seven dance and amusement places will be visited each Saturday night. Here is a partial list of Halls that have already made arrangements for broadcasting this fall: The Trianon Ballroom, the Hotel Saskatchewan, The Arcadia Ballroom, The King's Ballroom, The Ruby Salon, The Venetian Gardens and The Adanac Club.

MUSICAL ADVISER TO CHWC ARTISTS BUREAU

HARRY DICKENSON

Harry Dickinson, Musical Adviser to the CHWC Artists Bureau, whose picture appears herewith, reports that the Bureau has enrolled at present 50 of Regina's talented Instrumentalists and Vocalists. He is very pleased with the response to date to invitations sent out, and expects to double this number during the present month. Since August 1st 25 of those enrolled have been featured on the Slumber Hour Programme of the Artists Bureau, broadcast each Monday, Wednesday and Saturday from 11.00 to 11.30 p.m.

A varied programme is given each evening featuring good music and song, and each artist appearing, has chosen appropriate selections taken from the lighter classics of the great composers.

PIANIST WITH THE CHWC ARTISTS BUREAU

MISS MARGARET BLACKLOCK

This feature is proving very popular. A high standard has been maintained from the start and a precedent has been set which artists appearing on future programmes will strive to maintain.

During September a number of young pianists are being featured in solos, duets and two piano numbers, and listeners are assured of some very

MEZZO SOPRANO WITH CHWC ARTISTS BUREAU

MRS. HARVEY GREIG

Many favourable and pleasing comments have been received on the Sunday Recorded presentation of good music offered each Sunday between 6.00 and 7.00 p.m., and the large number of requests shows that the good music featured on this programme is appreciated.

Listeners are assured of good music on Sunday between 6.00 and 7.00 p.m., and on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday between 11.00 and 11.30 p.m. by tuning in to CHWC.

CJ CJ NOTES

In looking at the above list of programmes, readers of Canadian Radio will notice that CJ CJ's list of Fall Features is as yet somewhat incomplete. However, your correspondent is confident that Fall Programmes and Features will be all scheduled in the succeeding issue of this magazine.

The staff of CJ CJ feel justly proud in welcoming Burns and Company Concert Orchestra, under the direction of Jascha Galperin, to our station. This talented group of well-known Calgary musicians will be playing each Friday evening, all Fall and Winter at 8.00 o'clock. This programme, by the way, will be announced by Mr. Lester Keith, who has broadcasted over the British Broadcasting Company's chain and also over KFI, Los Angeles. Mr. Keith has a well trained voice and I am sure that his songs and announcing will be greatly enjoyed.

Miss Gertrude McKee, A.T.C.M., L.A.B., whose picture is reproduced on this page, has played many delightful piano compositions over this station, and will be heard several times a week a little later on in the season. Incidentally, Miss McKee assists Mr. Harold Roberts, Director of the Keith Sanatorium Good Will Programmes, by playing nearly all accompaniments.

FAMOUS CONTRALTO PUTS HOME FIRST

Merle Alcock, who has sung with the Metropolitan Opera Company and as soloist with all the leading symphonies and choral societies in America, is one of the few outstanding singers who believes that her husband and home come before her career.

"I chose a home and having made the decision I stick to it," declares the artist. "I don't mean that it has prevented me from going on with my music, but in order to take care of my house properly I have willingly given up many out of town engagements and have avoided any alliances which would take up the time I must devote to my home."

In private life the singer is Mrs. Bechtel Alcock, the wife of a former vocalist who gave up the concert platform to enter business. She received her entire musical education in her own country. Born in a small town in Missouri, she attended Drake University, and set out for New York as soloist with a lady's quartet in vaudeville.

Merle Alcock has appeared on the stage in Western Canada and last winter was in Winnipeg under the auspices of the Celebrity Concert Series. Her Picture appears on the on the opposite page.

MUSIC APPRECIATION COURSE MANUALS

Copies of Walter Damrosch's 1932-33 Music Appreciation Course manual, as well as the students note book, are ready for mailing and soon will reach public school teachers, music instructors and club leaders, Ernest La Parade, Dr. Damrosch's assistant, has announced.

It is anticipated that more than 75,000 copies of the manual will be supplied this year before the beginning of the Music Appreciation Hour, to be conducted by Dr. Damrosch for the fifth consecutive season over National Broadcasting Company networks.

Early indications are that Damrosch's classes will be even larger during the 1932-33 series than last year when an estimate, by public school superintendents and music teachers, indicated more than 6,000,000 public school children alone were following Damrosch's instructions. This figure, La Parade said, did not include a host of listeners in other radio classifications.

SOMETHING FISHY ABOUT THESE DUCKS

Ever since boyhood days in Canada, Norman Brokenshire has been known for his love of game. An admirer in the Northern wilds of the Dominion recently sent him a box of ducks. The express company phoned advising "Broke" that the shipment had arrived, although delayed badly over hinterland routes. "Are they wild?" Broke asked. "Naw, very dead," was the retort. The report does not state from which part of the "Northern Wilds," someone had the temerity to procure and forward ducks in the off season.

Log of North American Stations

A space has been left below each kilocycle notation so that readings of individual radio dials may be substituted where necessary.

Stations that are included in the National Broadcasting Co. chains are marked (N) and those included in the Columbia chains are marked (C).

This is a tentative list and will be added to as may be found necessary. Readers are invited to send in suggestions as to other Stations which should be included.

This small, portable P.A. System combines lightness of weight and portability, with power and quality. The two units illustrated may be purchased together or separately. The microphone, amplifier and speaker is contained in one case and forms a complete announcing system requiring only connection to 110 V. power lines to place in operation. The other case, with electric motor and pick-up, will play both 78 and 33 $\frac{1}{2}$  rpm. records, and it has ample space in the lid for carrying a selection of records. This is the ideal set for clubs, community halls, lectures, and etc., in fact for anyone who is in need of a small, compact, yet powerful P.A. System.
